

Malcolm X

V

He is just like me but he fought for people that were Jewish even though he was not.

A cartoon illustration of a man in a light brown suit and red tie sitting on a wooden bench in a city square. He is reading a newspaper. A water bottle is on the bench next to him. In the background, there are buildings, street lamps, and a few silhouetted figures. A speech bubble above him contains the text "I should go to Peter".

I should go to Peter

Meanwhile. Peter Nelson ^

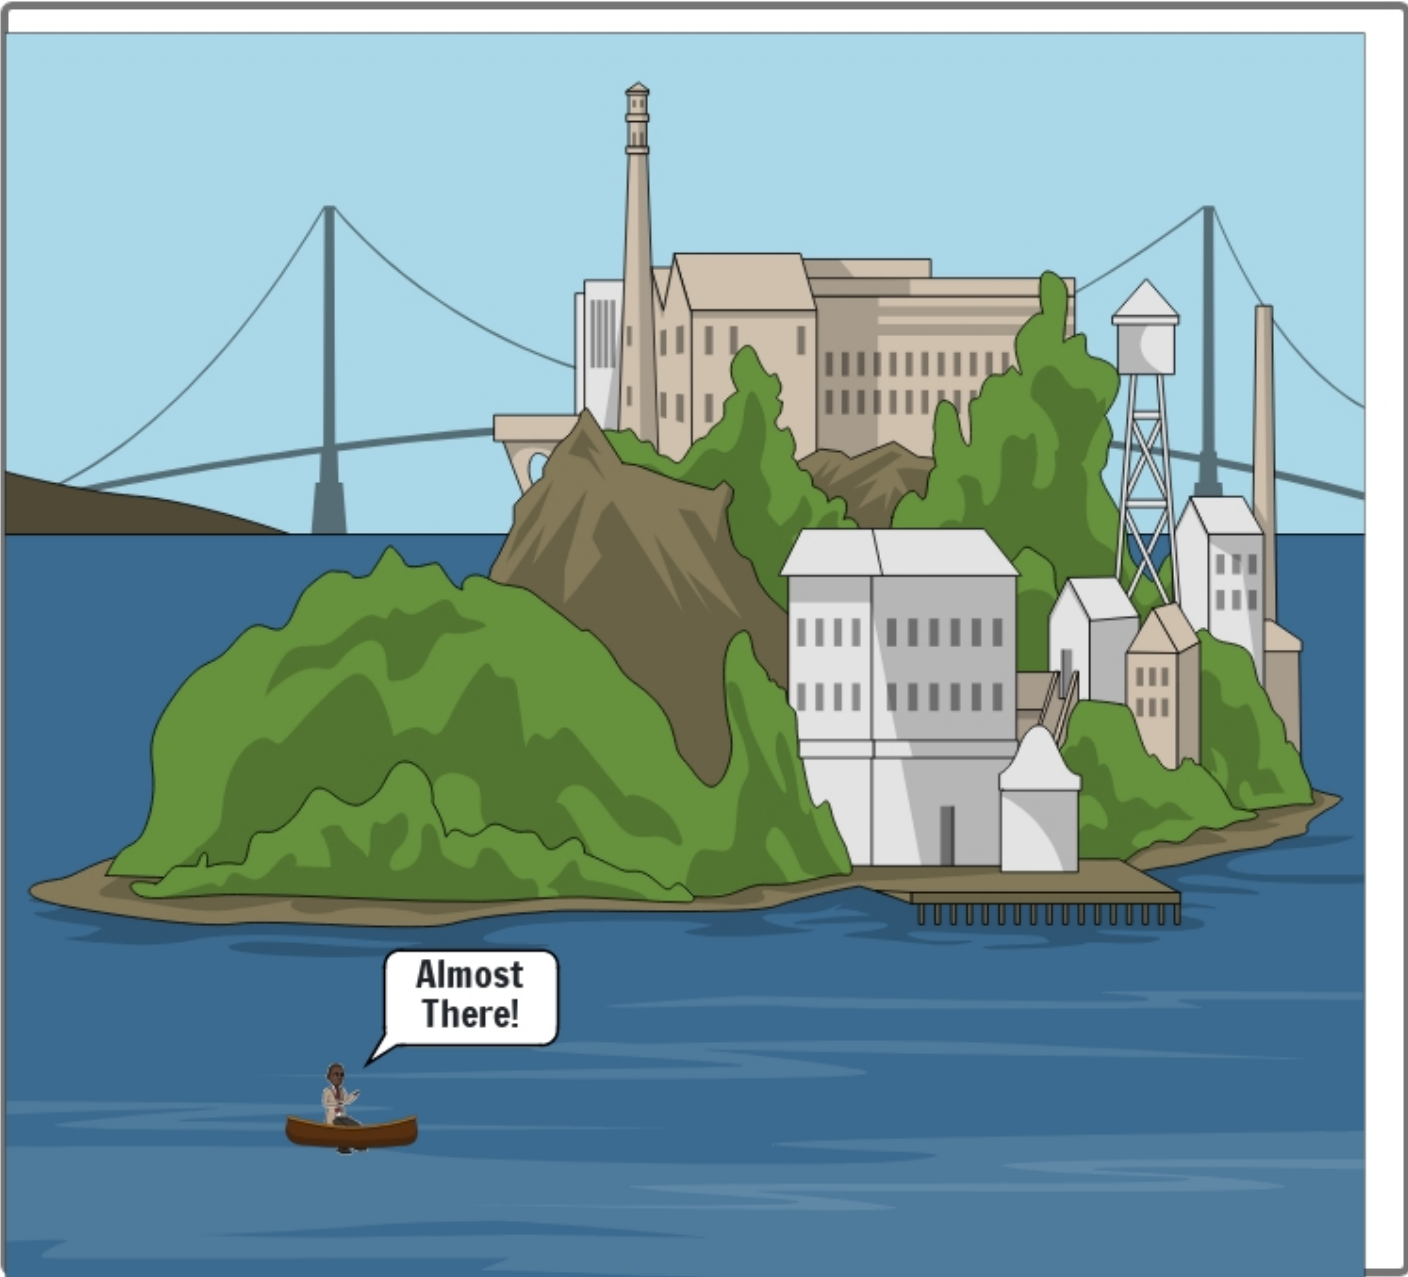

Malcolm X traveling to meet Peter Nelson.

I can't wait to meet peter!

Malcolm X on a airplane

Almost There!

Hey Peter!
I read about you!

A few minutes after Malcolm X arrived to the prison.

Oh! I think I might have heard of you!
Are you Malcolm X?

I did not know that you knew who I am!

Yeah I did! and I feel like we have similar stories! You changed peoples lives and so did I!

It's sad how we both lost our loved ones.

7 Minutes Later

A cartoon illustration of a man with blonde hair, wearing an orange suit, standing in a room. He is holding a black telephone receiver to his ear and has a sad expression with a tear on his cheek. To his left is a small wooden table with a grey office phone on it. In the background, there is a grey door with a window and a silver handle. The floor is grey with a grid pattern. A speech bubble points to the man.

Yeah the lost of our loved ones was sad.

We both were determined to not give up on what we believed in.

A Couple Minutes Later

A cartoon illustration of a man with blonde hair, wearing an orange jumpsuit, standing in a room. He is holding a black mobile phone to his ear. To his left is a small wooden table with a grey office phone on it. In the background, there is a grey door with a window. The floor is grey with a grid pattern. A speech bubble points to the man.

Yeah that was sad
you got shot and so did I.

Goodbye Peter!

Goodbye
Malcolm X

after the conversation.

A colorful illustration of a coastal town built on a hillside. In the foreground, a small brown boat with a person inside is on the blue water. The town features various buildings, including a large white building, a water tower, and a lighthouse. A yellow banner with the text "THE END" is draped across the top of the scene, decorated with pink roses and green leaves. A suspension bridge is visible in the background against a light blue sky.

THE END

